To Whom it May Concern,

I am told that there is a possibility of raw milk becoming legal for sale, which I'm very excited about. I love raw milk, and love for my children to drink it, as it is so nutritious (the proteins haven't been damaged from pasteurisation) and delicious. Also, I believe in the farmers that produce it- they take care of their cows to keep them healthy rather than supplementing them with antibiotics and letting them live in substandard conditions.

Hoping my small email counts for the cause,
