Subject: please NO 2.4-D

I am writing in resonance to an article on 2,4-D glufosinate ammonium and glyphosphate. It is unthinkable what Agri & Chemical companies like Monsanto are trying to force on consumers. GE has proven and continues to prove it's unsafe and has largely been untested for human consumption (for any length of time that can give concrete results). We are guinea pigs now, today and tomorrow when it comes to this food 'science.'

Please don't let NZ's GE FREE status come under threat by continually letting food applications in under the public radar. Why not let these decisions be made with public knowledge as a guide? We DO NOT want/need more GE anything in our food chain, please listen to the people.
