
From:

Sunday, 17 May 2020 1:30 PM

To:

submissions

Subject:

'Submission' on Application A1192 - Food derived from herbicide-tolerant corn line MON87429

I believe all herbicide resistant foodstuffs are potentially dangerous and those who approve them now should be held responsible for latter day problems as they become identified.

Looking back 100 years we see how little was known about genetics -Looking forward 100 years I believe we will be regarded as one of the most barbaric eras of humanity on this planet - the ones who have done most to destroy the very essence of life on earth. Herbicides are designed to kill.

What do you call that which is designed to kill the killer?

There is absolutely no need for this type of corn and with the emphasis growing on local seed strains to produce local food for sustainable, resilient communities we cannot afford contamination of our food.

I ask that this application A1192 be declined.

thank you