Subject: Legalise consumption of hemp seeds

Hello there,

Please successfully legalise the consumption of hemp seeds in Australia and New Zealand. Please follow the plethora of other countries where this is already legal for consumption. The health benefits and amazing environmental benefits of growing and consuming hemp seeds are second to none. The carbon emissions alone from growing hemp are such a win for our environment and climate change that this should be encouraged in our beautiful country. The ability to manufacture hemp milk to be sold for consumption in Australia would be a fantastic option for non dairy consumers and a wonderful alternative for almond milk consumers - being such a water intensive product to grow, where as hemp is not.

Thank you for your time.

Kind regards,

Jaime Hipwell
