Subject: Submission Proposal P1007 - Primary Production and Processing Requirements for Raw Milk

I would like to voice my support to make a change to the laws so that real raw milk products are made legally available to Australian consumers.

As a health conscious consumer myself I am highly disturbed at the pace that well known healthy products keep getting taken off the market and banned. Why is this happening? It's so obvious that it's ridiculous. Why are multi national companies more important than true health? MONEY?

Money can still be made with integrity and values.

I have seen great benefits in my own health since drinking and eating raw milk products, not only in my digestion, energy levels, and improved immune system, but also noticed a huge difference in my skin, hair, teeth and eyes. This is quite amazing really, when I cannot drink pasteurized and homogenised milk products without getting a very upset stomach and other allergic reactions.

Real raw milk products should be readily available and legal today!

Regards
