SUBMISSION.

As an Indigenous Maori woman of the Northern region of Aotearoa, New Zealand, it would seem that, once again, western science is being used, through the process of irradiating food, to preserve profit making rather than people's health. Following on the devastating experience of the worldwide Covid-19 infection, this would seem an objectionable and unacceptable idea of the science and business community; therefore I oppose the Queensland Government's application A1193 to Irradiate ALL 'fresh' fruits and vegetables.
