

Submission on A1193 Irradiation of all fresh fruit and vegetables

We recommend that FSANZ reject proposal A1193 on the following grounds:

We choose to eat organic food, which may not be irradiated.

Irradiation of fresh fruit and vegetables has the potential to lessen their nutritional value.

We would expect that any food which has been irradiated would bear a clear label to that effect. If individual pieces of fruit or vegetable cannot be labelled, then the display area should have a notice indicating that they have been irradiated.
