To whom it may concern,

In the interest of full disclosure and informed consent about what is in my food, I strongly oppose the Food Code changes that would mean inadequate and dangerous labelling and safety testing of GM foods. To allow industry to self-regulate/assess where there is a clear conflict of interest and a track record of being driven by the dollar is frightening.

I am alarmed that FSANZ does not appear to have consumer rights and safety at the forefront of its decisions, relying on biased, unreliable and premature science.

Consequences of gene manipulation is serious and still not properly understood.

The proposal to deregulate new and emerging GM techniques and their food products, which pose new and unassessed risks, is completely unacceptable.

Thank you for your consideration of my concerns.
