To whom it concerns,

I as an Australian do not want to eat any GM foods and I definitely do not want the power to assess the safety of these foods to go to a corporate company with vested interested. On top of this it could also result in no proper labelling of such foods? This makes absolutely no sense to me and I'm shocked as to why this is even being considered?

The proposed changes would make Australia one of very few countries in the world to allow genetically modified animal products into our food chain with no regulation or labelling. Something that really confirms to me that perhaps this is not as safe a place as I thought.
